

Table of Contents

---

0 Preface — What is it to be Human? .....	1
Maki Sato and Jonathan McKinney

PART I Intuitive Technology and Human Practice

1 The Improvisational Mind and the New Great Game: Buddhist Reflection on Responsive Virtuosity and the Intelligence Revolution .....	9
Peter D. Hershock
2 Kokoro in the Apparatus of Physical/Psychological and Distributed/Central .....	20
Maki Sato
3 The Philosopher's Path to San José: Toward a Cross-Cultural Radical Embodied Cognitive Science .....	40
Jonathan McKinney
4 A Note on Derrida and Agamben on Animality .....	73
Qin Wang

PART II Embodiment and the Virtual World

5 Some Remarks on the Representation of A.I. in Cinema .....	83
M. Downing Roberts
6 Emergent Technologies — Promethean Promises or Frankensteinian Fears? An Enactivist and Japanese Cultural Analysis .....	101
Jesús Ilundáin-Agurruza
7 Musical Imagination Situated: Baroque Bowing through the Lens of 5E Approaches .....	147
Emilien Dereclenne
8 The Birth of Classical Chinese and its Development — A Classical Case of 5E Imagination .....	174
Yufei Wang and Dongping Zheng
Short Bios of the Contributing Authors .....	200