Luoyang, Henan Province, was known as the old city “Cheng Zhou 成周” built by Western Zhou 西周 dynasty. It is very important for restructure of history of Western Zhou period to study the actual condition of “Cheng Zhou”. But, it is hard to say that former studies have fully used many bronzes unearthed from Luoyang. Therefore, treating with all bronzes heard to be unearthed from Luoyang, I hope to study the actual condition of the old city “Cheng Zhou”. First, in this article, I am trying to confirm each date about the every vessel unearthed before beginning of scientific excavation. and I find it is not accurate all vessels were unearthed from Luoyang. I am sure, after eliminating these vessels, we can start the real examination.
